LAHAINA WHARF A CERTAINTY SAYS AIKEN

Governor McCarthy Visits Wharf-sites In Lahaina And Says He Is Willing To Help

THE ROWBOAT TURNED THE TRICK

Mrs. McCarthy Did Not Like To Sail
On The Pacific In A Rowboat And Urged For A Solid Wharf

"The Lahaina wharf is clinched," said Worth Aiken after conducting Governor C. J. McCarthy over the various sites proposed for the wharf at Lahaina on Wednesday morning. "Governor McCarthy after looking over the ground and investigating several pieces of property which it would be necessary to acquire for the wharf practically said that he would give the proposition his sanction and put nothing in the way of our getting the appropriation which was voted by the legislature."

Rowboat Decisive Factor

This is good news for Maui people, and it is believed they can thank Mrs. McCarthy for it, for Mrs. McCarthy was Worth Aiken's large argument in getting the Governor's cooperation in pushing the work on the building of a deep sea wharf or at least a wharf adequate to permit the warping alongside of the inter-island steamers. It appears that when Governor and Mrs. McCarthy started home to Honolulu from Hilo they decided to stop off at Maui. The steamer, as usual anchored off Lahaina at night, and to Mrs. McCarthy's dismay she had to come ashore in the small boat and was quite timid about it. When the Governor was asked whether he would return to Honolulu by the Mauna Kea on her return trip, he replied that Mrs. McCarthy preferred to board a boat directly from the wharf and they would return to Honolulu via the steamer Claudine.

The point of view of the passengers was thus forcibly brought home to Governor McCarthy who expressed considerable more interest in the project of the Lahaina wharf than has been his wont heretofore.

Visits Building Site

In the afternoon Governor McCarthy in company with D. C. Lindsay and others visited the Maui County Fair association's site for the territorial building at Kahului. He suggested a few minor changes and intimated that as soon as the Maui County Fair and Racing Association is an incorporated body the territorial funds for the building will be immediately forthcoming.

The deed to the site has already been forwarded to the territorial offices.

Governor McCarthy spent the rest of his stay on the island with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Burns.

Paia Distillate For Fair Exhibit

Internal Revenue Officer Opens Distillery For Week's Supply Which Will Be Tested At The Territorial
Fair In Honolulu

Deputy Mark Hanna from the Internal Revenue Office at Honolulu opened the Maui Agricultural Distillery No. 1 at Paia Monday afternoon. This was done for the purpose of obtaining distillate to be used at the Territorial Fair for exhibit purposes. The distillery will remain open until sufficient distillate for a week's demonstration is made and will then be closed by the Government officials. The test which will be made at the fair will be made for a week with a tractor and a motor car.

"If these tests should be successful," states Mr. Hanna, "it means the opening of a new industry for Maui that has unlimited possibilities. Experiments have been being conducted for several years past, and government officials feel confident that the product has now reached such a state of perfection that it will withstand the tests to which it will be put."

Will Wikiwiki With Incorporation Work

At a meeting of the directors of the Maui County Fair & Racing Association, Tuesday afternoon, Secretary D. H. Case was ordered to draw up articles of incorporation. The move is necessary at this time for the reason that the $10,000 which has been voted by the legislature for a territorial building on the County Fair grounds will not be available unless the association is an incorporated body. The articles will be presented to the members at a special meeting called for that purpose Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Walluku.

Lest We Forget

Today is Memorial Day, and one which brings with it joy as well as sorrow. For while we mourn for the boys who have given their all and passed into the great beyond, we rejoice that today sees no more of them falling in battle. We do not know whether the strife is yet over, but there has been a lull for six months, and we are glad that this year sees no additional graves added to the many that are decorating the hills of France and Belgium. Let us do homage to the departed with flags and flowers. Those of us who have been fortunate enough to have our sons preserved to us, let us not forget the mothers and fathers who must go the rest of life's pathway alone. Show them by word or deed that you are one with them in their sorrow. Get out your flag and join with your countrymen in commemorating today the deeds of her noble sons.

All Women Urged To Attend Meeting

Rev. A. W. Palmer Will Speak On Suffrage—Central Organization
For Study To Be Formed—Men
Asked To Come Too

Every woman on the island of Maui who can get there is urged to attend the monster suffrage meeting which is to be held tomorrow at two o'clock at the Kahului community house. It is to the interests of Maui women to attend this meeting, as it will serve a two-fold purpose. First to perfect an organization of the island women to work for and study suffrage and good government questions; second it will be a concrete example to the members of the Hawaiian legislature as to the feeling of the Maui women on the subject.

The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. H. A. Baldwin, who extends an urgent invitation to all men who are interested in the question to be present, and those that are sitting on the fence uncertain as to their allegiance to attend also. Rev. A. W. Palmer of Honolulu, a most able speaker, will give the main address of the day, and will speak on the advantages of the franchise of women to the community.

That the Maui women are becoming interested in the subject was shown by the attendance at a called meeting at Lahaina, Wednesday afternoon at which 60 women were present. These women expressed it as their intention, if they could get transportation, to come to the Kahului meeting tomorrow.

There seems to be an impression in the island that each community is to form its own suffrage club, states Mrs. Baldwin, who has charge of the organizing. She wishes all Maui women to understand that the meeting at Kahului tomorrow is for all island women, that a central organization will be formed at that time, and from that organization committees to cover the different districts will be appointed to form precinct classes for study. It is therefore necessary that women representatives from all parts of the island be present.

Maui Gardeners Urged Be Ready

Cut Flower Day For Maui June 12 At Fair—Shipments Will Leave Night
June 11—All Entrants Asked To Get Applications In Early

Maui exhibitors of flowers at the Territorial Fair are urged to have their exhibits ready for shipment on the boat that leaves here the evening of June 11. The cut flower exhibit will be held on June 12, and it is the desire of the Maui committee that Maui have a good showing. Hilo is preparing to send a large consignment of cut flowers, and the florists of Maui and amateur gardeners are expected to show the other islands that Maui is not behind when it comes to flowers. Any further information will be furnished by Mrs. H. A. Baldwin.

Wednesday, June 11, will be flower basket day, in charge of Mrs. Charles Chillingworth. Thursday, June 12, will be the day of cut flowers, under the management of Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson. On Tuesday, cut flowers from the island of Hawaii will be shown. The Mauna Kea arrives from Hilo on the morning of that day hence the arrangement. Thursday is also the day of the Outdoor Circle, with Mrs. A. E. Murphy heading the circle committee.

Friday and Saturday, June 13, and 14, the cut show takes place in the right wing of the flower building. Mrs. Jack Kuhn is chairman of the cut committee. Canaries are also to be shown in the flower building. Dan Wilkie has some champion birds, famed for their singing, he says, which will add to the interest of the flower show accessories.

Mrs. A. J. Gignoux, in charge of the plant division of the exhibition, draws attention to the fact that all plants must be delivered at the fair not later than 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, June 9.

Big Sum Needed To Elect One Man

County Must Spend $2500 To Elect
A Supervisor—Cockett And Lyons
Are To Run For Office June 3

To spend $2500 just so one supervisor may be elected is the prospect that faces the County of Maui. At the recent primary election all the seats on the board of supervisors were filled but one. That one was the chair for which Pia Cockett was running on the Republican ticket. Mr. Cockett did not receive quite enough votes to elect him, and consequently there will be a general election held June 3 for the purpose of determining whether Cockett will occupy a supervisorial chair or not. The cost of determining this question will be about $2500, according to County Clerk W. F. Kaee. Clerk Kaee says it will be necessary for a Democrat to run against Mr. Cockett, but as it is the whole election will be for Mr. Cockett's benefit.

T. B. Lyons who polled the highest number of votes on the democratic ticket will run against Mr. Cockett to make the election a good one.

Train Wrecked By Loose Switch

Someone monkeying with the switch on the Kahului Railroad last week caused an accident last Friday that fortunately did not result in any deaths or injuries. The train, which was full of school children, had just pulled out of Walluku station at three o'clock and was getting under way for the run, when it reached the switch line which has been laid to the Catholic church in anticipation of the building activities soon to be under way there. The engine crossed the switch safely, but the train of cars started to go onto the switch, with the result that the engine was thrown into the ditch. Only the fact that the train was not running at high speed prevented a horrible disaster. Whether someone left the switch unlocked unwittingly and the vibration of the passing engine caused the rails to turn, or whether the loose switch was done deliberately is not known. A wrecking crew was sent immediately to the scene of the accident, and the train reached Kahului about midnight Friday.

BABY DROWNS IN DITCH

A three year old baby boy, the child of one of the Japanese tunnel workers on the new ditch line at Kailua, wandered into the ditch last week and was drowned. The body was found several hours later.

SAYS IMMORAL- ITY REPORTS ARE NOT TRUE

Filipinos No Worse Than Other Nationalities, Says Filipino Labor
Commissioner Remigo

STUDIES CONDITIONS ON MAUI

Says Will Not Make Statement Until Report Has Been Made To Plantation Managers

Taking umbrage at the statements recently made in an essay printed in the Hawaii Educational Review that the Filipinos morally are an undesirable race to bring to Hawaii, Commissioner to Hawaii, Prudencio E. Remigo, who has been investigating labor conditions on Maui stated to a News representative before leaving Walluku last Saturday, that he wishes to refute that statement.

"I have found, on investigation," said Commissioner Remigo "that the criminal annals do not show any more waywardness on the part of Filipinos than of any other nationality which you have here in the laboring field. From statistics in the jails of Honolulu and Maui I find that the number of criminals is not as much as many other nationalities, the basis being about 40-60. I wish vigorously to refute the assertions made against the morality of the Filipinos. When you place them in overcrowded houses and do not give them the proper surroundings, as is the case in many places on the islands, there will of necessity be some criminality, but on the whole, among the 20,000 Filipinos on your islands, territorial records show that there is less crime, in proportion their numbers than among the other nationalities."

The article referred to was a prize essay written by K. Shibayama on Labor Conditions in Hawaii, which appeared in the Hawaii Educational Review for May.

Mr. Remigo said he did not care to make a statement as to his findings on the labor and housing conditions on Maui until he had made a report to his government and the plantation managers although he did find considerable overcrowding.

Commissioner Remigo was accompanied by Dr. H. A. Rosa prominent attorney of Manila, on his tour of inspection, which occupied the better part of a week.

Oriental Be- Burns Brothers

Tam And Inada Take Victory From Opponents By Brilliant Game—
Linton Makes Good Showing At Honolulu

In four sets of some of the most brilliant playing that has been seen on Maui for some time, Inada and Tam playing against the Burns brothers last Sunday afternoon wrested the victory for the semi-finals from those players with a score of 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. The Burns Brothers had been walking away with most of the laurels the week previous and there was a large gallery present to see the struggle for the game. There was considerable surprise when the Burns brothers lost to the Oriental team.

On Monday the McNichol-Wicke combination beat Walsh and Bowdish with a score of 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-3. Five games were necessary to decide the winners, the sets being bitterly fought for by each side.

The semi-finals between Walsh and Rietow and McNichol and Wicke were played off yesterday afternoon, and the winners will play the victors of last Sunday, Inada and Tam for the finals on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

In the tournament for the silver trophy of the Honolulu Military Academy which is now being played, had as entrants Jack Linton and J. Andrade. Linton had everything his own way taking the match easily from Andrade by swift playing. Andrade was unable to score once. Linton will without doubt be heard from in the finals, and Maui looks for him to bring home the trophy.

FIGHTER FINED A FIVER

It cost Alexander McNichols $5.00 to hit a man last week. He and Ernest Jason got into an argument and McNichols started arguing with his fists with the result that Jason had him arrested for assault and battery. The case was heard before Judge McKay yesterday morning and the assailant fined $5.00.
